Nonprofit Accountability Policy

The economic strength of Austin and health of its citizens depends on an effective, accountable and proactive nonprofit sector. One Voice Central Texas is committed to advancing public confidence and support for the nonprofit sector by exemplifying ethical practices, accountability and the highest standards of quality service.

One Voice is committed to the following:

1. Supporting accountability standards for nonprofits
2. Educating the public and funding organizations about nonprofit accountability standards and acceptable certifications
3. Supporting nonprofits to meet the accountability standards

Supporting Accountability Standards:

One Voice members agree to undergo a biennial organizational self-assessment and submit a copy of the completed self-assessment tool to One Voice. The self-assessment tool can be found at:

<http://onevoicecentraltx.org/for-members/standards-resources/>

In addition, One Voice encourages members to undergo certification at the national level when appropriate and feasible. Examples of national certifications include:

- Standards for Excellence: <https://standardsforexcellence.org>
- Council on Accreditation: <http://coanet.org/standards/standards-overview/>
- Better Business Bureau: <http://www.bbb.org/us/Standards-Charity/>
- Charities Review Council: <https://smartgivers.org/nonprofits/>
- America's Best Local Charities: <http://www.bestlocalcharities.org>
- Commission of Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities (CARF): <http://www.carf.org>

Educating the public and funding organizations about nonprofit accountability standards and acceptable certifications:

Through its literature and presentations, One Voice is committed to educating the community about acceptable standards. One Voice will highlight members who have completed the self-assessment tool. One Voice will work with other information and referral organizations to encourage them to also highlight members who have achieved accountability standards.

Supporting nonprofits to meet the accountability standards:

One Voice will identify ways to support nonprofits in meeting accountability standards. This may include activities such as identifying seasoned executives to serve as mentors to provide support, pairing peer Executive Directors to learn from one another, identifying areas in which members need support, and providing trainings. Based on the aggregate feedback from the self-assessment tool, One Voice will identify specific nonprofit needs for strengthening infrastructure and will share these needs with local capacity-building organizations. One Voice will also share the results with local funders in the hopes that they will provide funding support for strengthening nonprofit infrastructure.

Nonprofit Accountability Guide

Based on the national best practices models listed below, the following are some guidelines for One Voice members to consider as they internally assess their own organization's practices. Several national sites offer guidelines and nonprofit accreditation. The Council on Accreditation (COA) provides the most detailed free resource on the standards that they expect, with specific recommendations on how to attain them: <http://coanet.org/standards/standards-overview/>

Mission and Vision Statements

The organization's vision and mission should be revisited by the Board every 3-5 years.

Develop vision and mission statements (from www.foundationcenter.org):

Vision and mission statements should articulate the essence of your organization's beliefs and values and define its place in the world. They establish the long-term direction that guides every aspect of an organization's daily operations.

To distinguish between the two, a vision statement expresses an organization's optimal goal and reason for existence, while a mission statement provides an overview of the group's plans to realize that vision by identifying the service areas, target audience, and values and goals of the organization.

You might think about answers to the following questions to guide your thinking:

Vision

- What are the values or beliefs that inform your work?
- What would you ultimately hope to accomplish as a result of your efforts?

Mission

- How do you plan to work toward this broad vision?
- For whose specific benefit does the organization exist?

Governance

Board Members

- Texas requires a minimum of three Board members; best practices suggest a minimum of seven unrelated members
- New Board members should receive an orientation to their duties as well as the organizational mission and programs
- Not more than one (or 10%, whichever is greater) directly or indirectly compensated member (e.g., Executive Director) serves as a voting member of the Board. Recommend that the Executive Director never votes
- Create clear conflict of interest policies that define the conflict of interest, have a mechanism to prevent the conflicted party from voting or making decisions on potentially conflicting transactions, and have a process for annual written disclosure of potential conflicts of interest
- Generally, Board members receive no compensation other than direct reimbursement of expenses
- Organizations should strive for Board members who reflect the diversity of the communities served by the organization and have the skills to accomplish their mission
- A minimum of one Board member should have a financial background
- Set terms for Board members and consider a limit to the number of consecutive terms that a Board member can serve. Many best practice sites recommend setting terms at between three and five years and setting a term limit of two consecutive terms.

Board Duties

- Set policy direction. Every 3-5 years, Board and organization engages in on-going strategic planning.
- Ensure that all legal requirements for operating as a non-profit organization are met
- Accept findings of annual independent financial audit
- Meet a minimum of four times per year, or in compliance with bylaws, with a majority of Board members in attendance
- Create written minutes that reflect the action of the Board, including Board committees
- Implement a Board committee structure which addresses the needs of the organization
- Create, review, and amend the organization's bylaws
- Adhere to conflict of interest policies
- Have written policies that address attendance and Board participation at Board meetings. Policies include a process to address noncompliance with meeting attendance
- Hire, regularly evaluate, and set compensation for the Executive Director
- Create a business continuity plan that includes a succession plan for the organization's volunteer and executive leadership
- Approve the budget annually and periodically assess the organization's financial performance in relation to the budget
- Annually prepare or approve a financial report for the organization for the preceding year. The report must conform to accounting standards as adopted by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and must include:
 - (1) A statement of support, revenue, and expenses;

- (2) A statement of changes in fund balances;
- (3) A statement of functional expenses; and
- (4) A balance sheet for each fund.
- Review programmatic performance outcomes and evaluate program cost effectiveness, program efficiency, and outcomes for clients
- Periodically assess need for liability insurance & document decision regarding insurance in Board meetings
- Board evaluates its own performance

Financial Management

General Financial Management:

- Complete the IRS 990 annually and file in a timely manner
- Be current on all tax obligations, including payroll taxes. Note: The Board is personally liable if payroll taxes are not made
- Have an independent annual audit (or financial review for agencies with $500,000 budget or less) that is prepared in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP), presented to and accepted by the Board, and made available to the community
- Avoid persistent or increasing annual operating deficits
- Prepare & submit financial statements to Board at least quarterly and explain variances from the budget
- Create financial policies that address:
 - a. Investment of assets
 - b. Internal fiscal control procedures
 - c. Purchasing practices
 - d. Unrestricted current net assets
 - e. Confidential process for reporting financial impropriety
 - f. Record retention and destruction
- Create and implement a plan to diversify funding
- Strive to maintain a three month to six-month operating reserve
- Board monitors the organization's annual spending on program activities vs. spending on administration or fundraising activities

Fundraising and Informational Materials:

- Ensure that all organizational materials that are distributed are accurate and truthful, and clearly describe the mission of the organization and the purpose or programs for which contributed funds will be used
- Consider creating an Annual Report that includes the following:
 - Organization's mission statement
 - Summary of the last year's program services accomplishments
 - Geographic areas served
 - Roster of the officers and members of the Board of Directors
 - Financial information including: total income in the last fiscal year, expenses in the same period including fundraising and administrative categories, and ending net assets

ONE VOICE

CENTRAL TEXAS

- Include on organization's website either a link to the Annual report or the organization's IRS Form 990 as well the physical address of the organization
- Address the privacy concerns of donors by creating a privacy policy and addressing how the information collected from a donor is used
- Ensure that donors do not feel threatened or intimidated. Maintain a policy that states that the organization will discontinue contacting a person based on their verbal or written request
- Assure that the organization is complying with disclosure of information laws:
<https://www.nonprofitexpert.com/public-disclosure-requirements/>
- Consider a policy that addresses the organization's acceptance of gifts, and any limitations on the types of gifts that will be accepted
- Fundraising personnel should not be paid based on a percentage of the amount raised or commission formula
- All statements made by the nonprofit in fundraising appeals about the use of a contribution should be honored. Nonprofits should also honor the intent of a donor
- Paid professional fundraisers should be properly registered and comply with all legal requirements
- Provide periodic internal review of organization's compliance with known existing legal, regulatory, and financial reporting requirements and review results with Board members.

Human Resources

Personnel Policies & Procedures: Agencies should have personnel policies & procedures that address the following:

- a. Job descriptions
- b. Organizational chart
- c. Working conditions
- d. Employee benefits
- e. Vacation and sick leave
- f. Annual written employee evaluation
- g. Employee supervision
- h. Hiring and firing
- i. Orientation for new employees
- j. Grievance procedures
- k. Employee growth and development
- l. Criminal background checks (identify for which employees - recommended at a minimum for staff providing direct client services)
- m. Harassment, Whistleblower and EEOC Complaints
- n. Confidentiality of employee, client, and organization records and information
- o. General standards of conduct, e.g., drugs/alcohol, smoking, attendance, etc.

Volunteer Policies and Procedures: Organizations should have volunteer policies and procedures that include:

- a. Initial assessment or screening
- b. Assignment to and training for appropriate work responsibilities
- c. On-going supervision evaluation and opportunities for advancement

- d. Criminal background checks, especially when providing direct client services

Health and Safety

- Create written health and safety policies that address licensure and/or certification issues
- Create risk management policies
- Ensure adequate and appropriate facilities/program space for client services
- Ensure adequate space and tools to enable staff to perform their jobs
- Create a disaster plan

Programs/Services

- Ensure programs and policies are aligned with the organization's mission statement
- Ensure that programs are addressing community needs. This can be partially achieved by the organization participating in community planning processes
- When available, ensure that programs are meeting recognized standards and best practices
- Measure effectiveness of programs by evaluating program cost effectiveness, efficiency & client outcomes
- Create mechanism for input, including client satisfaction, from program participants
- Use evaluation results to strengthen the effectiveness of programs and make programmatic changes
- Create clients' rights policies that include: client confidentiality, procedure for release of client information, and grievance procedures
- Assure that activities of the agency are strictly non-partisan and fall within federal lobbying guidelines

Nonprofit Resource Guide

The resources listed herein can provide general guidance for nonprofits facing certain common issues and questions. Please do not use these resources as an alternative to professional guidance when addressing fundamental concerns.

Local Austin Resources:

- One Voice Central Texas – <https://onevoicecentraltx.org/> - One Voice Central Texas is a coalition of the leadership of over one hundred nonprofit health and human service organizations working to make sure that everyone can contribute to our community and thrive. One Voice offers trainings, a buddy mentorship program, and an online resource library for members, as well as a private Members Only Facebook Group. The Facebook Group allows Executive Directors to engage in conversations with peer Executive Directors: <https://www.facebook.com/groups/244670099339978/>
- Center for Nonprofit Studies at Austin Community College – <http://sites.austincc.edu/npo/> This organization aims to connect various nonprofits with the many resources available in Austin and to improve their organizational strength. The Center has an online resource library with large numbers of articles offering guidance around issues facing many nonprofits, including the Principles & Practices for Nonprofit Excellence Guide (<http://sites.austincc.edu/npo/resources/principles/>). If you're looking for an array of viewpoints on fundraising, financial management, ethics, or strategic planning, scroll through the resources available. Additionally, their training sessions cover topics from grant-writing to financial oversight, with a strong focus on management issues. The Center also sponsors a Certificate in Nonprofit Leadership and Management.

- Mission Capital – www.missioncapital.org This membership organization offers consulting services around several common issue areas, including strategy, operations, leadership transitions, and partnerships. They also conduct regular seminars and workshops. Mission Capital has a job bank and supports the 501(c)ommunity, a portal for member nonprofit professionals, board members, and volunteers to connect and share information, experiences, and ideas around nonprofit management and governance: <http://www.501community.org>
- TANO – www.tano.org The Texas Association of Nonprofit Organizations (TANO) is the statewide association promoting Texas' growing nonprofit community. TANO's services include an extensive nonprofit knowledge center, statewide calendar and job bank, leadership and management learning opportunities, and public policy updates. TANO is a satellite program of the Nonprofit Risk Management Center and offers many of the Center's services throughout Texas.
- Texas C-BAR – www.texasobar.org The Texas C-BAR (Community Building with Attorney Resources) has an excellent legal resource library and connects nonprofits with legal assistance. They provide pro bono assistance to nonprofits for non-litigation legal issues and help form new nonprofit organizations. Their legal resources include employment, fundraising, and corporate governance information. They focus on business law rather than litigation, which makes them unique within the state of Texas. While this organization serves the entire state of Texas, they are based here in Austin.
- Regional Foundation Library – <http://diversity.utexas.edu/tgrc/about-us/foundation-center/> For nearly 50 years, the Regional Foundation Library (RFL) has served as a bridge between grant-seeking and grant-making communities in Central Texas. Affiliated with both the Foundation Center headquartered in New York and The University of Texas at Austin's Division of Diversity and Community Engagement, the RFL offers free access to online tools for funding research as well as access to print and archival materials related to nonprofit formation, board development, strategic planning, and grant funding. A list of print resources in their library can be found at <http://www.librarything.com/catalog/AustinRFL/yourlibrary>.
- The League of Nonprofit Human Capital – <https://nonprofithumancapital.org/> The League for Nonprofit Human Capital is a collective group of Central Texas-based nonprofit HR professionals who share information, learn from one another, and meet up for Happy Hour. You can message them on their Contact Us page to request to be added to their email listserv of local human resources professionals of nonprofits
- Association of Fundraising Professionals (AFP) Greater Austin Chapter - <http://www.afpaustin.org> The purpose of the AFP Greater Austin Chapter is to foster a vibrant philanthropic community through nurturing fundraising professional excellence. They offer continuing education opportunities, resources, monthly luncheons on different topics, and an annual Central Texas Funders Forum.

National Nonprofit Resources:

- Foundation Center – <https://foundationcenter.org/> This site is designed for use by foundations but has valuable information for grant seekers as well. Though few of their resources are free, they offer many books and training courses which may be valuable for organizations with the budget to afford them. For larger organizations, their Annual Year in Review publication can help fundraising staff understand the landscape in which foundations are making their funding decisions.
- GuideStar – www.guidestar.org This site provides an index of publicly filed 990 forms for all nonprofits that have submitted them, including foundations. The site requires registration, but the free account grants access to the full 990 forms.
- The Impact Foundry – <http://www.theimpactfoundry.org> This site offers a broad overview of the nonprofit sector, and may be a good resource for potential board members or others who are not familiar with the nonprofit sector to bring them up to speed.
- Blue Avocado – <http://www.blueavocado.org/> Blue Avocado is the bimonthly newsletter of American Nonprofits, a membership organization that provides practical financial information and support to U.S. 501(c)(3) nonprofit organizations, staff, stakeholders and volunteers. It is created by and for community-based nonprofits.

One Voice Baseline Standards Self-Assessment Tool

One Voice members agree to complete and submit the One Voice Baseline Standards Self-Assessment Tool to One Voice biennially. One Voice uses the aggregated results of the checklist to identify ways to support nonprofits in meeting accountability standards, which may include activities such as identifying seasoned executives to serve as mentors to provide support, pairing peer Executive Directors to learn from one another, and providing trainings. Additionally, based on the aggregate feedback from the self-assessment tool, One Voice will identify specific nonprofit needs for strengthening infrastructure and will share these needs with local capacity-building organizations and funders in the hopes that they will provide support for strengthening nonprofit infrastructure. All information received about a specific organization or individual through the Standards of Excellence checklist and mentoring program remains confidential.

Members can use the self-assessment tool to benchmark their organizations and ensure that their agency is meeting best practices, and to identify the key strengths of their organization/areas in which they could use assistance.
